- d. Ideas for next year’s conference to be facilitated by our incoming Caucus Chair, Amanda Brown, on our Facebook Page:
<https://www.facebook.com/groups/144055393776/>
- V. Remote business will technically conclude on April 19th, 2020 – although Chair Brown may continue to dialogue with group via Facebook after that point.
- VI. Chair Eckstein officially hands over leadership to:
 - a. Chair: Amanda Brown (2021 conference planner)
 - b. Co-Vice-Chairs: Chris North & Lauren Johnsen
 - c. Secretary: Becky DeGreeff
- VII. The Women’s Caucus continued the fund-raising tradition with donations to Sarah’s Circle, a Chicago-based non-profit dedicated to assisting women facing homelessness.
- VIII. shared the “Inspire” theme for the 2021 conference via the Women’s Caucus Facebook page and solicited ideas for panels and papers.
 - a. Ideas included:
 - i. Women’s physical, emotional, intellectual and/or professional labor related to Covid-19. The pandemic disproportionately impacted women, revealing gender inequity in a variety of contexts.
 - ii. The pressure to be productive during social distancing (e.g. fitness, self-improvement, etc.)
 - iii. The gendered nature of academic service and the pressure women face to engage in this type of work as well as pressure to support students emotionally. Covid-19 has also revealed gender inequities in academic publishing.
 - iv. Organizing and lifestyle guru, Marie Kondo’s Netflix series reveals the gendered in perceptions of household duties and responsibilities. Kondo also has a new book about organizing your professional space and life (e.g. learning to say no).
